'Real-Time' Multimedia Tool Enables Online Collaboration, Education, Meetings

Elluminate was built specifically for live, multimedia collaboration. You can educate, demonstrate, and collaborate in real-time over the Internet without the need for travel or teleconferencing. Elluminate has a long list of features that make your meetings and training more effective and enjoyable.

How Elluminate helps you work smarter and save money . . .

- Two-Way Audio (Voice-over-IP) - Crystal-clear audio over the Internet without teleconferencing. Use your computer's built-in microphone and speakers or plug in an external headset and mic. No more long-distance charges!
- Bandwidth Efficiency - Collaborate in real time, regardless of Internet connection speeds, knowing that everyone sees and hears the same thing at the same time.
- Application Sharing, Interactive Whiteboards - Share PowerPoint presentations, drawing tools, or anything on your desktop with participants. You or your participants can edit or add content via moderator-grantable mouse controls.
- Record - Saves the audio and video of a meeting or training session as a file for viewing later. The recorded meeting file can be emailed or set as a link on your website, an EBC, HR*insider*SM, etc.
- Direct Text Messaging - Instant public and private messages to one participant, the entire group, or a selected group of participants.
- Quiz Manager - Allows the moderator to conduct interactive quizzes and surveys, load and store tests, and collect results.
- Meeting Moderator stays in control - Permission-granting, attendee list, and sequenced hand-raising features.
